

CONSULTATION INTENDED PARENTS

Embryos created at another clinic

If you already have embryos created at another clinic and wish to use them with a surrogate at Herts & Essex Fertility Centre, please see price list for Embryo Recipient in Surrogacy Cycle

Egg share donor

Altruistic donor

SURROGATE IN PLACE

Fresh embryo transfer to surrogate

Fees for Host Surrogacy Package	Cost (£)
Consultation & Counselling	£400
Egg Donor if required:
Consultation	£300
Egg donor assessment scan	£175
Screening
Female donor screening (HE6)	£775
Male donor screening (HE7)	£700
Post quarantine HE7a	£155
Female repeat HE6a	£155
Semen assessment, prep & Freeze (up to 1 year)	£575
ICSI Surrogacy Cycle	£8,730
HFEA Fee	£85
Female Medication	£2,000 Approx.

Once eggs have been donated to and used by surrogate the cycle will be deemed to be complete. A refund of £200 will be paid if embryo transfer does not occur. (e.g. if failure of eggs to fertilise or all embryos are frozen)

If you would like more information about Surrogacy, please get in touch: 01992 78 50 60 Monday to Friday 8am-5pm
enquiries@hertsandessexfertility.com
www.hertsandessexfertility.com

← Back to Surrogacy Journey Page

Fees for Host Surrogacy Package	Cost (£)
Surrogate
Consultation & Counselling	£300
Surrogate screening HE2a & CMV	£240
Partner screening HE1a	£125
Surrogate drugs	£500 Approx.
Saline Infusion Sonogram	£485
Additional Fees
Embryo glue	£250 i
Pregnancy scan	£195
Surrogate medication in pregnancy	£500 Approx.

i Embryo Glue is a specialised culture medium that is enriched with a naturally occurring substance called Hyaluronan. Hyaluronan is found throughout the body and is thought to be important in fertility as the levels of hyaluronan increase within the uterus around implantation.

If you chose to use Embryo Glue, this will be used instead of conventional culture medium at the point of embryo transfer. The embryo selected for transfer will be placed within the Embryo Glue ahead of transfer. You will not need to do anything differently during the embryo transfer process. There are no additional risks in the use of Embryo Glue further than those associated with routine fertility treatment.

Embryo Glue has been classed as an 'add on' by the HFEA. An 'add on' is a treatment that can be offered by a clinic which may not have enough evidence to show that it is effective at increasing the chances of having a baby (<https://www.hfea.gov.uk/treatments/treatment-add-ons/#What-are-add-ons>).

Each 'add on' is ranked according to the quality of evidence to support their use and Embryo Glue, along with other media containing hyaluronan, has been ranked as 'amber'. The HFEA acknowledge that there is one high quality study which supports that Embryo Glue may increase the chances of having a baby with fertility treatment whilst other studies are deemed to be of moderate quality and as such the use cannot be routinely recommended for all fertility patients (<https://www.hfea.gov.uk/treatments/treatment-add-ons/hyaluronate-enriched-medium/>).

Your Clinician and Embryology team will be able to give you further guidance should you wish to use Embryo Glue in your treatment.

NO SURROGATE YET

Frozen embryo transfer to surrogate

Fees for Host Surrogacy Balance of Package	Cost (£)
Part 1 Embryo Creation
Consultation & Counselling	£400
Egg Donor if required:
Consultation	£300
Egg donor assessment scan	£175
Screening
Female donor screening (HE6)	£775
Male donor screening (HE7)	£700
Post quarantine HE7a	£155
Female repeat HE6a	£155
Semen assessment, prep & Freeze (up to 1 year)
	£575
ICSI Surrogacy Cycle
	£7,902
HFEA Fee	£85
Female Medication	£2,000 Approx.

Once eggs have been donated to and used by surrogate the cycle will be deemed to be complete. A refund of £200 will be paid if embryo transfer does not occur. (e.g. if failure of eggs to fertilise or all embryos are frozen)

If you would like more information about Surrogacy, please get in touch: 01992 78 50 60 Monday to Friday 8am-5pm
enquiries@hertsandessexfertility.com
www.hertsandessexfertility.com

← Back to Surrogacy Journey Page

Fees for Host Surrogacy Balance of Package	Cost (£)
Part 2 Transfer of Embryos to Surrogate
Balance of Surrogacy Package for use of Frozen Embryos (Includes surrogate medication & surrogate SIS)	£3,855
Surrogate
Consultation & Counselling	£300
Surrogate screening HE2a & CMV	£240
Partner screening HE1a	£125
Additional Fees
Additional years storage (if required)	£360
Embryo glue	£250 i
Pregnancy scan	£195
Surrogate medication in pregnancy	£500 Approx.

i

Embryo Glue is a specialised culture medium that is enriched with a naturally occurring substance called Hyaluronan. Hyaluronan is found throughout the body and is thought to be important in fertility as the levels of hyaluronan increase within the uterus around implantation.

If you chose to use Embryo Glue, this will be used instead of conventional culture medium at the point of embryo transfer. The embryo selected for transfer will be placed within the Embryo Glue ahead of transfer. You will not need to do anything differently during the embryo transfer process. There are no additional risks in the use of Embryo Glue further than those associated with routine fertility treatment.

Embryo Glue has been classed as an 'add on' by the HFEA. An 'add on' is a treatment that can be offered by a clinic which may not have enough evidence to show that it is effective at increasing the chances of having a baby (<https://www.hfea.gov.uk/treatments/treatment-add-ons/#What-are-add-ons>).

Each 'add on' is ranked according to the quality of evidence to support their use and Embryo Glue, along with other media containing hyaluronan, has been ranked as 'amber'. The HFEA acknowledge that there is one high quality study which supports that Embryo Glue may increase the chances of having a baby with fertility treatment whilst other studies are deemed to be of moderate quality and as such the use cannot be routinely recommended for all fertility patients (<https://www.hfea.gov.uk/treatments/treatment-add-ons/hyaluronate-enriched-medium/>).

Your Clinician and Embryology team will be able to give you further guidance should you wish to use Embryo Glue in your treatment.

SURROGATE IN PLACE - Egg share donor

Fresh embryo transfer to surrogate

Fees for Surrogacy Package	Cost (£)
Intended Parents
Consultation & Counselling	£400
Screening
Male donor screening HE7 (x 2 if required)	£700
Post quarantine HE7a (x 2 if required)	£155
Partner screening	£125
Semen assessment, prep & Freeze (up to 1 year)
Semen assessment, prep & Freeze (up to 1 year)	£575
ICSI Surrogacy Cycle (Includes donor/surrogate medication & surrogate SIS & Blastocyst culture. A deposit of £2,300 to be paid at SIS appointment)
ICSI Surrogacy Cycle (Includes donor/surrogate medication & surrogate SIS & Blastocyst culture. A deposit of £2,300 to be paid at SIS appointment)	£12,525
ICSI for 2 nd male Intended parent	£1,000
HFEA Fee	£85

Once eggs have been donated to and used by surrogate the cycle will be deemed to be complete. A refund of £200 will be paid if embryo transfer does not occur. (e.g. if failure of eggs to fertilise or all embryos are frozen)

If you would like more information about Surrogacy, please get in touch: 01992 78 50 60 Monday to Friday 8am-5pm
enquiries@hertsandessexfertility.com
www.hertsandessexfertility.com

← Back to Surrogacy Journey Page

Fees for Surrogacy Package	Cost (£)
Egg Donor
Recruitment fee	£500
Egg donor screening (HE6)	£775
Female donor repeat HE6a	£155
Surrogate
Consultation & Counselling	£300
Surrogate screening HE2a & CMV	£240
Partner screening HE1a	£125
Additional Laboratory Fees
Embryo freezing and 1 year storage	£735
Additional years storage (if required)	£360
Embryo glue	£250
Pregnancy scan	£195
Surrogate medication in pregnancy	£500 Approx.

i

Embryo Glue is a specialised culture medium that is enriched with a naturally occurring substance called Hyaluronan. Hyaluronan is found throughout the body and is thought to be important in fertility as the levels of hyaluronan increase within the uterus around implantation.

If you chose to use Embryo Glue, this will be used instead of conventional culture medium at the point of embryo transfer. The embryo selected for transfer will be placed within the Embryo Glue ahead of transfer. You will not need to do anything differently during the embryo transfer process. There are no additional risks in the use of Embryo Glue further than those associated with routine fertility treatment.

Embryo Glue has been classed as an 'add on' by the HFEA. An 'add on' is a treatment that can be offered by a clinic which may not have enough evidence to show that it is effective at increasing the chances of having a baby (<https://www.hfea.gov.uk/treatments/treatment-add-ons/#What-are-add-ons>).

Each 'add on' is ranked according to the quality of evidence to support their use and Embryo Glue, along with other media containing hyaluronan, has been ranked as 'amber'. The HFEA acknowledge that there is one high quality study which supports that Embryo Glue may increase the chances of having a baby with fertility treatment whilst other studies are deemed to be of moderate quality and as such the use cannot be routinely recommended for all fertility patients (<https://www.hfea.gov.uk/treatments/treatment-add-ons/hyaluronate-enriched-medium/>).

Your Clinician and Embryology team will be able to give you further guidance should you wish to use Embryo Glue in your treatment.

Fresh embryo transfer to surrogate

Fees for Surrogacy Package Altruistic Donor	Cost (£)
Intended Parents
Consultation & Counselling	£400
Surrogate
Screening (x 2 if required)	£700
Post quarantine HE7a (x 2 if required)	£155
Partner screening	£125
Additional Laboratory Fees
Semen assessment, prep & Freeze (up to 1 year)	£575
ICSI Surrogacy Cycle (Includes; donor/surrogate medication, all eggs retrieved Surrogate SIS, Blastocyst culture) (A deposit of £2,300 to be paid at SIS appointment)	£16,650
ICSI for 2 nd male Intended parent	£1,000
HFEA Fee	£85

Once eggs have been donated to and used by surrogate the cycle will be deemed to be complete. A refund of £200 will be paid if embryo transfer does not occur. (e.g. if failure of eggs to fertilise or all embryos are frozen)

If you would like more information about Surrogacy, please get in touch: 01992 78 50 60 Monday to Friday 8am-5pm
enquiries@hertsandessexfertility.com
www.hertsandessexfertility.com

← Back to Surrogacy Journey Page

Fees for Surrogacy Package Altruistic Donor	Cost (£)
Egg Donor
Egg donor Recruitment fee	£500
Egg donor screening (HE6)	£775
Female donor repeat HE6a	£155
Surrogate
Consultation & Counselling	£300
Surrogate screening HE2a & CMV	£240
Partner screening HE1a	£125
Additional Laboratory Fees
Embryo freezing and 1 year storage	£735
Additional years storage (if required)	£360
Embryo glue	£250
Pregnancy scan	£195
Surrogate medication in pregnancy	£500 Approx.

i

Embryo Glue is a specialised culture medium that is enriched with a naturally occurring substance called Hyaluronan. Hyaluronan is found throughout the body and is thought to be important in fertility as the levels of hyaluronan increase within the uterus around implantation.

If you chose to use Embryo Glue, this will be used instead of conventional culture medium at the point of embryo transfer. The embryo selected for transfer will be placed within the Embryo Glue ahead of transfer. You will not need to do anything differently during the embryo transfer process. There are no additional risks in the use of Embryo Glue further than those associated with routine fertility treatment.

Embryo Glue has been classed as an 'add on' by the HFEA. An 'add on' is a treatment that can be offered by a clinic which may not have enough evidence to show that it is effective at increasing the chances of having a baby (<https://www.hfea.gov.uk/treatments/treatment-add-ons/#What-are-add-ons>).

Each 'add on' is ranked according to the quality of evidence to support their use and Embryo Glue, along with other media containing hyaluronan, has been ranked as 'amber'. The HFEA acknowledge that there is one high quality study which supports that Embryo Glue may increase the chances of having a baby with fertility treatment whilst other studies are deemed to be of moderate quality and as such the use cannot be routinely recommended for all fertility patients (<https://www.hfea.gov.uk/treatments/treatment-add-ons/hyaluronate-enriched-medium/>).

Your Clinician and Embryology team will be able to give you further guidance should you wish to use Embryo Glue in your treatment.

NO SURROGATE YET - Egg share donor

Frozen embryo transfer to surrogate

Fees for Surrogacy Balance of Package	Cost (£)
Part 1 Embryo Creation
Consultation & Counselling	£400
Screening
Male donor screening (x 2 if required)	£700
Post quarantine (x 2 if required)	£155
Semen assessment, prep & Freeze (up to 1 year) (x 2 if required)	£575
Egg donor recruitment fee	£500
ICSI Surrogacy Egg Donation Freeze All Embryos (Includes donor medication, embryo freeze & Blastocyst culture)	£9,915
ICSI for 2 nd male intended parent (if required)	£1,000
HFEA Fee	£85

Once eggs have been donated to and used by surrogate the cycle will be deemed to be complete. A refund of £200 will be paid if embryo transfer does not occur. (e.g. if failure of eggs to fertilise or all embryos are frozen)

If you would like more information about Surrogacy, please get in touch: 01992 78 50 60 Monday to Friday 8am-5pm
enquiries@hertsandessexfertility.com
www.hertsandessexfertility.com

← Back to Surrogacy Journey Page

Fees for Surrogacy Balance of Package	Cost (£)
Part 2 Transfer of Embryos to Surrogate
Surrogate
Consultation & Counselling	£300
Surrogate screening	£240
Partner screening	£125
Balance of Surrogacy Package for use of Frozen Embryos (Includes surrogate medication & surrogate SIS)	£3,855
Additional Fees
Additional years storage (if required)	£360
Embryo glue	£250 i
Pregnancy scan	£195
Surrogate medication in pregnancy	£500 Approx.

i

Embryo Glue is a specialised culture medium that is enriched with a naturally occurring substance called Hyaluronan. Hyaluronan is found throughout the body and is thought to be important in fertility as the levels of hyaluronan increase within the uterus around implantation.

If you chose to use Embryo Glue, this will be used instead of conventional culture medium at the point of embryo transfer. The embryo selected for transfer will be placed within the Embryo Glue ahead of transfer. You will not need to do anything differently during the embryo transfer process. There are no additional risks in the use of Embryo Glue further than those associated with routine fertility treatment.

Embryo Glue has been classed as an 'add on' by the HFEA. An 'add on' is a treatment that can be offered by a clinic which may not have enough evidence to show that it is effective at increasing the chances of having a baby (<https://www.hfea.gov.uk/treatments/treatment-add-ons/#What-are-add-ons>).

Each 'add on' is ranked according to the quality of evidence to support their use and Embryo Glue, along with other media containing hyaluronan, has been ranked as 'amber'. The HFEA acknowledge that there is one high quality study which supports that Embryo Glue may increase the chances of having a baby with fertility treatment whilst other studies are deemed to be of moderate quality and as such the use cannot be routinely recommended for all fertility patients (<https://www.hfea.gov.uk/treatments/treatment-add-ons/hyaluronate-enriched-medium/>).

Your Clinician and Embryology team will be able to give you further guidance should you wish to use Embryo Glue in your treatment.

NO SURROGATE YET - Altruistic donor

Frozen embryo transfer to surrogate

Fees for Surrogacy Balance of Package using Altruistic Donor	Cost (£)
Part 1 Embryo Creation
Consultation & Counselling	£400
Screening
Male donor screening (HE7)	£700 (x2)
Post quarantine	£155 (x2)
Additional Fees
Semen assessment, prep & Freeze (up to 1 year)	£575 (x2)
Egg donor recruitment fee	£500
ICSI Surrogacy Egg Donation Freeze All Embryos (Includes donor medication, embryo freeze & Blastocyst culture)	£13,890
ICSI for 2 nd male intended parent	£1,000
HFEA Fee	£85

Once eggs have been donated to and used by surrogate the cycle will be deemed to be complete. A refund of £200 will be paid if embryo transfer does not occur. (e.g. if failure of eggs to fertilise or all embryos are frozen)

If you would like more information about Surrogacy, please get in touch: 01992 78 50 60 Monday to Friday 8am-5pm
enquiries@hertsandessexfertility.com
www.hertsandessexfertility.com

← Back to Surrogacy Journey Page

Fees for Surrogacy Balance of Package using Altruistic Donor	Cost (£)
Part 2 Transfer of Embryos to Surrogate
Surrogate
Consultation & Counselling	£300
Surrogate screening	£240
Partner screening	£125
Balance of Surrogacy Package for use of Frozen Embryos (Includes surrogate medication & surrogate SIS)	£3,855
Additional Fees
Additional years storage (if required)	£360
Embryo glue	£250
Pregnancy scan	£195
Surrogate medication in pregnancy	£500 Approx.

i

Embryo Glue is a specialised culture medium that is enriched with a naturally occurring substance called Hyaluronan. Hyaluronan is found throughout the body and is thought to be important in fertility as the levels of hyaluronan increase within the uterus around implantation.

If you chose to use Embryo Glue, this will be used instead of conventional culture medium at the point of embryo transfer. The embryo selected for transfer will be placed within the Embryo Glue ahead of transfer. You will not need to do anything differently during the embryo transfer process. There are no additional risks in the use of Embryo Glue further than those associated with routine fertility treatment.

Embryo Glue has been classed as an 'add on' by the HFEA. An 'add on' is a treatment that can be offered by a clinic which may not have enough evidence to show that it is effective at increasing the chances of having a baby (<https://www.hfea.gov.uk/treatments/treatment-add-ons/#What-are-add-ons>).

Each 'add on' is ranked according to the quality of evidence to support their use and Embryo Glue, along with other media containing hyaluronan, has been ranked as 'amber'. The HFEA acknowledge that there is one high quality study which supports that Embryo Glue may increase the chances of having a baby with fertility treatment whilst other studies are deemed to be of moderate quality and as such the use cannot be routinely recommended for all fertility patients (<https://www.hfea.gov.uk/treatments/treatment-add-ons/hyaluronate-enriched-medium/>).

Your Clinician and Embryology team will be able to give you further guidance should you wish to use Embryo Glue in your treatment.

Embryos created at another clinic

Fees for Embryo Recipient In Surrogacy Cycle	Cost (£)
Intended Parents
Consultation Intended parents	£300
Frozen embryo cycle (To include counselling, HFEA Fee)	£3,470
Male donor screening (HE7)	£700
Female donor screening (HE6)	£775
Surrogate
New Consultation	£300

Fees for Embryo Recipient In Surrogacy Cycle	Cost (£)
Counselling	Free
Surrogate screening HE2a & CMV	£240
Surrogate partner screening HE1a	£125
Drugs	£380
Saline Infusion Sonography	£485
Surrogate medication in pregnancy	£500 Approx.

If you would like more information about Surrogacy, please get in touch: 01992 78 50 60 Monday to Friday 8am-5pm
enquiries@hertsandessexfertility.com
www.hertsandessexfertility.com

← Back to Surrogacy Journey Page